GAME WARDEN HAS FILED HIS ACCOUNT

He Spent $1,204.41 During His Fifteen Months of Work.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 17.—During the fifteen months he has been state game warden, Henry Overbeck's official personal expenses have aggregated $1,204.41. This fact is revealed by the monthly vouchers just filed by Mr. Overbeck in the office of the secretary of state.

Just why he didn't file these vouchers from month to month as they accrued, as he did those of his deputies, has created some talk, especially among those familiar with the established custom of the office. To be sure the vouchers show that Mr. Overbeck travelled up and down the state a great deal last year, especially before the Republican state convention, but his duties as game warden require him to travel about a great deal.

An examination of the vouchers does not reveal any reason why they should not have been filed from month to month as they occurred. The vouchers show that his personal expenses incurred while in the performance of his duties as game warden since his appointment were as follows:

October, 1901.....	$1,257.10	July, 1902.....	$1,101.40
November, 1901.....	101.50	August, 1902.....	101.50
December, 1901.....	100.25	September, 1902.....	80.50
January, 1902.....	55.25	October, 1902.....	72.50
February, 1902.....	31.50	November, 1902.....	68.83

THOMAS HEMMENS DIES OF INJURIES

His Death Occurred This Morning at the Hospital—Was a Pioneer Resident.

Thomas Hemmens died this morning at 8 o'clock at the Palmer Memorial hospital as the result of injuries which he received on Friday afternoon when he was struck by the passenger train. Mr. Hemmens never regained consciousness after the accident and at two o'clock this morning paralysis set in.

Mr. Hemmens had been in ill health for the past three years and for some time past he had been suffering with mental weakness. He had been very feeble lately and Thursday it was thought that he would not live through the day. Friday he seemed stronger and after dinner he started to take a walk, his particular mania being for walking. His brother who lives around the corner from Mr. Hemmens' home at 252 Lincoln street usually accompanied him on these walks and Miss Jessie Hemmens watched her father until he turned the corner for his brother's house.

Mr. Hemmens did not stop for his brother but walked down to Spring Brook and then followed the railroad track. He was in the center of the Monterey bridge when the train struck him and the train must have been going very slowly as Mr. Hemmens' body was rolled under the engine. The most serious injury appeared to be the fracture of the left hip.

Thomas Hemmens was a native of England, having been born in Somersetshire, Nov. 20, 1831. He came to this country in 1855, coming directly to Janesville where he has resided ever since. For thirty seven years he was a trusted employee of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company, holding the position of check clerk at the freight depot. Three years ago he was forced to resign on account of ill health. During his long residence in Janesville Mr. Hemmens has won the high esteem of all who knew him and his tragic death will be sincerely mourned.

Decensed leaves a wife, three sons, Alvie, Louis and Clarence Hemmens, and two daughters, Mrs. George Slightman and Miss Jessie Hemmens, all of this city. One brother, Joan Hemmens, of this city, also survives.

GOVERNOR YATES FROWNS ON BOXING

Orders Sheriff Barrett to Put a Stop to Bout at Chicago Between Yanger and Mowatt.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 17.—Governor Yates has frowned upon prize fighting in Chicago clubs. His action in calling the militia a few nights ago to stop a mill which unwise promoters proposed to hold in the state capital, under the very nose of the chief executive, apparently has aroused him to a general enforcement of the state law prohibiting prize fighting and boxing exhibitions.

Private Secretary Oglesby wrote a letter to Sheriff Barrett of Cook county, calling his attention to the proposed Yanger-Mowatt bout scheduled before the America Athletic club.

"If Governor Yates orders me to stop the fight between Benny Yanger and Young Mowatt there will be nothing left for me to do but to stop it," said Sheriff Barrett. "The state law, which prohibits boxing, is superior to the city ordinance, which permits it. While I do not understand the governor's motive clearly, I am inclined to believe he does not mean to crush boxing in Chicago."

Dr. Harry Blay, of Footville, greeted friends in this city yesterday.

THESE FACTS ARE BLUNTLY SAID

A Tax-Payer Calls a Spade a Spade, and Does Not Mince Matters.

This morning's Recorder, the organ of the obstructionists, clamors for a grand jury. To investigate what? To investigate the question as to whether the people have been paying all the taxes they ought to pay. Ye Gods, wouldn't that make you smile? They gloss over the charge of stealing of public funds, embezzlement of public moneys, obtaining money under false pretense, malfeasance in office and all other crimes by asking the grand jury to find out whether the people have been paying all the taxes they ought to pay. As well understood that the obstructionists have sent several threats to people who are prominent in the Municipal League movement to look out for their taxes. The time for the obstructionists has long since gone by. If they had been present at the meeting of the Municipal League last Thursday evening they would have realized this. This is no time to talk about whether people have paid all the taxes they ought to pay or not. The first question is—What has become of the money that has been paid? The obstructionists bethink themselves that there will be some credit for this clamoring for a grand jury. Why gentlemen, a grand jury has been talked upon the streets for a month or more. In all probability you will get all the grand jury you desire. Hide your time. You have had full run of this city for years. You have been working more years than the Municipal League has days. Don't begin to push for you are likely to strike up against something. Don't publish anonymous communications under the guise of virtuous citizens. Don't threaten to raise people's taxes if they demand justice of you. In speaking of taxes, we would like to have you report how much your entire obstruction party has paid. Publish your names with the amount of tax opposite that any of you has paid. You haven't even paid taxes on the money that you have gotten out of the city. You fellows clamor for a grand jury and throw dirt in the air, but don't be idiotic enough to think you can scare the city of Janesville or the tax payers of the city. They have a right to require an account of your stewardship and they propose to do it. If you could have looked into the faces of the tax-payers at the Municipal League meeting you would have realized that this is no joke. You may get grand jury enough before you get through.

HAWAII DON'T WANT LEPERS

Settlers Unite in a Protest Against Placing Molokai Settlement Under Federal Control.

Honolulu, Jan. 17.—Hawaii's protest against the plan to place the Molokai lepers' settlement under federal control and make it a national lazaretto will be voiced by the Honolulu chamber of commerce, Merchants' association, builders and traders' exchange, republican territorial central committee and other organizations. A number of citizens will send personal protests.

There is much feeling on the subject, the main objections to the proposal of the senate committee being that it would injure the reputation of the country, would be bad for the lepers now on Molokai, practically all Hawaiians, in that it would introduce a lot of other races and cause discord, and that it would take away the chance of Hawaii ever being without a leper settlement. The number of lepers at Molokai is decreasing, and the prediction has been made that the settlement can ultimately be given up. The papers all urge immediate action to prevent congress from carrying the recommendation out.

TO INVESTIGATE FRAUDS IN LONDON

Losers in the Whitaker-Wright Crash Decide Scandal Must Be Probed.

London, Jan. 17.—At a meeting today of the supporters of the movement to initiate the prosecution of Whitaker Wright and others connected with the failure of the London and Globe Finance corporation, limited, in which it was resolved to raise a fund of $25,000 for the purpose. Arnold White, the author, who presided, announced that $10,000 already had been promised, and said that unless the honor was to remain under a cloud immediate steps must be taken to sift the scandal. The reason the prosecution was not undertaken by the government was because the directors were sheltering themselves behind members of the royal family.

The Drama

"Foxy Quiller."

With a list of the following first class attractions for the rest of January and the first week in February Manager Myers has all his available dates at the opera house well filled. Tuesday Foxy Quiller, the sequel of the famous Highwayman appears. Friday comes the Storks, and the following Wednesday, January 25, King Dodo arrives to visit his loyal subjects. On Monday February 2 Miss Adelaide Thurston will present At announced for Friday, Jan. 23, at the Myers Grand is, according to the opinion of Chicago's press and public, one of the most pronounced musical triumphs of the day, because it not only ran for five consecutive months in the western metropolis, an unprecedented record since the World's Fair, but it has been widely endorsed as being the newest and brightest melange of American wit and melody conceivable, and fairly meto, for he forthwith decreed that Mr. Hitchcock should have 100 acres he liked. Now Hitchcock has had ideas lately of seeing his name prominently displayed as the stellar light in the theatrical firmament, and in his own words "he shuddered at the thought" of superintending a cattle ranch. Suddenly his attention was drawn toward the two little women, Miss Grey and Miss Williams, who in "King Dodo" are heralds announce-

THE GOVERNOR'S BODY GUARD IN "FOXY QUILLER."

Cozy Corners and on Thursday February 5 the Bostonians known from one end of this continent to the other will give the old favorite yet ever new Robin Hood.

Foxy Quiller
One of the events of the season will be the presentation in this city on Tuesday next of the successful comic opera "Foxy Quiller" with Mr. Richard Golden as the star. Manager Ben Stern, who directs the production of the opera to be seen here has spared no expense to assemble the largest organization of its kind that has ever traveled on the road. The company includes Miss Carlotta Gilman a beautiful young woman who has scored triumphs abroad and bubbling over with the most original ideas appertaining to opera, extravaganzas and spectacular, most uniquely entwined with twenty-five specially composed musical numbers, comprising every possible musical theme, ranging from the dancing march to the dainty waltz fascinator not forgetting the many gems of the popular order that it is claimed will be whistled everywhere in town after the first performance. "The Storks" is presented in two acts and three scenes, said to be the most elaborate ever made in the west. The plot is based upon one of Wm. Hauff's fairy stories, and although extravaganza in structure, nevertheless the characters act and talk as of land with 100 head of cattle with which to start a ranch as soon as the arrival or departure of the merry monarch evinces a desire to bask in the lime-light. Why not give the land and cattle to them? The idea met with the hearty approval of the cattleman, and the next day a deed was filed with the registrar of San Antonio whereby Maud Williams and Maud Grey become joint owners of the new ranch.

At Cozy Corners
Monday night, February second, at the Myers Grand, Miss Adelaide Thurston, one of the stage's prettiest and most refined stars, will appear with her company in the four act comedy drama, "At Cozy Corners." Of Miss Thurston's performance the Columbus, O., State Journal recently said: "The audience which saw Miss Thurston last night at the Great Southern appreciated the many strong situations and approved of the artistic manner in which it was put on. It is seldom that you see a star so well supported as is Miss Thurston. It would be difficult to find anything wrong with any of her company."

MAY DE SOUSA

in "THE STORKS"

the ill-fated comedian Adolph Zink. The eminent artists are supported by a number of persons, who have achieved fame on the operatic stage, and a chorus that is said to be unequalled for beauty. The opera itself is considered by critics to be the best of the many offered to the public by De Koven and Smith. The light tunefulness of the music and the fun of the piece will be all the more enjoyed by the regular patrons of the theatre, from the fact that Mr. De Koven is said to have returned to the more legitimate, and that Mr. Smith has recently told a strong story in the plot. The very fact that De Koven and Smith are responsible for "Foxy Quiller" insures a delightful evening, in addition to this hat the opera is produced by Ben Stern who has long held the proud position of being the most elaborate producer in the country. makes it certain that scenic magnificence and handsome costumes will be exhibited. The idea of placing the thief and booty in the portmanteau of the illustrious "Quiller" and starting that famous detective off from Portsmouth to Corsica to capture his own luggage is one of the cleverest, as well as one of the most humorous devices ever employed in comic opera.

King Dodo

Not to be outdone with the good fortune of several New York show girls who have recently amassed fortunes on Wall street, the two young women, Maud Grey and Maud Williams, whose homes are in Milwaukee, and who have been lending a certain amount of vigor to "King Dodo," were recently made joint owners of 100 acres of land and 100 head of cattle, the same being now held for their disposition near San Antonio, Tex.

It all occurred about three weeks ago when "King Dodo" was making a quick tour of the Lone Star state. Mr. Hitchcock, in the title role of the opera, made a most favorable impression on a very wealthy cattleman of San Antonio. The gentleman in question requested an introduction to the comedian. This was easily accomplished and when the presentation was made both Maud Grey and Maud Williams happened to be near, and they were introduced. The cattleman invited the party to supper. In the course of which he became more than eulogistic about Mr. Hitchcock's ability as a comedian. Hitchcock in return expressed a desire to some time spend a few months in Texas. "No sooner said than done" was evidently the Texan's

THE POWER OF THOUGHT

Two young men were sitting in the office of the new Pacific Cable company at midnight, not long ago, when the click of the receiver, announced for the first time, that Manila, 8,000 miles away, was in direct touch with the land that is devoting so much energy and money to enlightenment and civilization.

The message was addressed to the president, at Washington, and was a note of greeting from the far distant islands. When it was flashed across the country, 3,500 miles away, with the rapidity of light, one of the operators said to the other:

"Tom, I have received and sent a great many messages, but I never give them any thought, and somehow that message strikes me with peculiar significance."

Why? What is there peculiar about it, John? It was simply a cable message over a new line, repeated like thousands of others, in transit every day.

"Yes, I know that's true, but I never knew what it was before to have one hand on the pulse of our distant island possessions, and the other on the seat of government at Washington, and I never appreciated before the great development of this wonderful age."

"Well, Tom, I wouldn't waste any energy thinking about it. Governor Taft does the thinking at Manila, and the president at the other end of the line, while you and I are simply machines to receive and transmit the message."

"That's very true, old man, we are altogether too much like machines. We handle other people's thoughts in a commercial way, for a moderate salary, and it comes to me with a good deal of force, now and then, as it does tonight, that while the cable and the overland line are wonderful engines of power, that back of their creation and development is the power of a human mind, engaged in thinking out the great problems, whose solution not only bless humanity, but furnish employment to you and me, and a great army of workers scattered over the country."

"Well, Tom, you talk like a preacher, but you're right just the same. There is no power that I know anything about, so great as the power of thought."

The two young men were expert telegraphers. They belonged to the class of men who are entrusted with the world's great secrets, and who are never known to betray a trust.

The little instrument that responded to the touch of skillful fingers was connected with arteries that spanned the ocean, and scaled the mountains, bearing messages of grave importance to all parts of the world.

The work was so mechanical and the ever present click so monotonous, that but little thought was expended outside of the daily routine, and as they chatted for an hour about the great power behind invention and discovery, life took on a new and more important aspect.

They had entered a realm that is never crowded with occupants and that is all too frequently ignored.

The fact is generally recognized, that the great forces in nature are the silent forces. When the mountain on the island of Martinique belched forth its volume of vapor that shot up into the clouds, 10,000 feet and scattered its stream of deadly lava over the little city at its base, it was after the forces of steam had been gathering strength quietly and unseen far beneath the surface.

When the tidal wave rolled in and submerged the ill-fated city of Galveston, it represented the culmination of atmospheric changes that were as silent in their workings, as they were destructive in their execution.

The same air that we breathe is compressed and bottled up, when it becomes an engine of power that nothing can withstand.

Some mind discovers that it can be used for transmitting sound, and a message is flashed through the air for 3,000 miles with no commotion, in transit, and only the click of the instruments on either shore.

What is true of nature and science in this respect, is true of the human mind. No eye is sharp enough to penetrate the workings, and no ear is keen enough to detect the slightest commotion, and yet the world today enjoys all it possesses in the way of development, because a few great minds devoted life and energy to study and research.

Franklin and Fulton, Edison and Marconi, and a few men of this class, have gone down below the surface of common thinking, and dug out the great principles from nature's storehouses, and applied them to practical every day use.

The power of thought is the greatest force with which the human mind is endowed. It is the key note of success in every commercial and industrial enterprise, and because it is so silent and inobtrusive, it lacks recognition and appreciation more than any other faculty possessed.

The men who stand at the head of great corporations, furnishing employment to thousands of workmen, are men who think. There is no time limit placed upon the occupation, but every energy of the mind is exhausted in hard persistent thought.

It is ever present during the hours of the working day, and carried home at night, to haunt the hours of rest, and not infrequently it snags the brittle thread of life long before the age limit is reached.

Every man in business, who amounts to a success, is a man who thinks. If he fails to think and plan for himself, he soon discovers that he is lagging far behind, and that he is being distanced in the race.

Every intelligent laborer in any occupation devotes more or less time to serious thought. The men who win in this world are the men who think out a destiny, and then work for its accomplishment.

They are not the men who devote their leisure to the discussion of an eight-hour or nine-hour work day, or to the injustice of capital and the rights of labor.

They have long since made the important discovery that some man's brains and money furnishes employment, and they work cheerfully, and without thought of censure or criticism.

You expect the boy or girl to offer an excuse for carelessness, "I didn't think." But that excuse never passes muster in this world of busy activity, yet there are many people who use it with a notion that it atones for ignorance or negligence.

A woman drove up in front of an office one hot day last summer. She had an old buggy and an older horse. An over-drawn check, taken up to the limit, so annoyed the old horse that he was in torture. As she alighted a friend to the brute creation, who was passing, said:

"Pardon me, madam, but will you permit me to let out this check rein?" And without waiting for a reply he let out the instrument of torture half a dozen holes. The old horse said, "thank you" as best he could, while the old lady said, "I never thought."

If there is any time well invested it is the time devoted to sober serious thought. It is the great engine of power in every life, and is worthy of careful consideration. Take time to think. The world has more use for thinkers today, than ever before.

What is a Mission?

A mission is defined as "an extraordinary attack on the citadel of sin—a brief, vigorous, persistent campaign on behalf of God and the Church." Such a mission is to be held in Christ and Trinity churches beginning on Friday, January 23rd by the Priests of the order of the Holy Cross. These three priests are men of most marked ability and one—the Superior—has a national reputation. That they may be better able to do the work of the master they have all of them taken the vow of poverty. They own nothing, they have nothing; body and soul they belong to the Lord. All the people of Janesville, regardless of creed or other circumstance, are cordially invited and earnestly urged to come and hear them. Everybody welcome.

BRIGHT TALK ON THE ACROPOLIS

PROF WRIGHT GAVE THE THIRD LECTURE IN SERIES

FOR JANESVILLE ART LEAGUE

Science Room at the High School Building Was Crowded to Its Capacity.

Prof. Theodore L. Wright of Beloit college gave his third lecture in the series on Greek Art and History before the Janesville Art League at the High School building on Friday afternoon. The science room was filled with an interested audience which included a number of High school students who are now studying Greek history. The increasing attendance at these lectures is evidence of a widening appreciation of their value.

Talked On Acropolis

Although the subject of Friday's lecture was announced as the Parthenon, Prof. Wright took a broader topic, speaking on the entire Acropolis. The subject was treated entirely from the art standpoint, the hour being devoted almost entirely to the relics of ancient Greek art which have been resurrected and preserved. The lecture was illustrated with a large number of excellent stereopticon views.

Prof. Wright told how in ancient times the entire Acropolis was peopled with marble and bronze statues. After the destruction wrought in the Persian war, these broken statues could not be erected on their own pedestals again so they were used to fill in and level up the Acropolis. Many of these old statues and fragments broken from the temples have been dug up and are preserved in museums.

Greek Temples

After showing some views of the entire Acropolis, Prof. Wright spoke briefly of the Erechtheum, the Greek temple which is the very best style of Ionic architecture. From this building was copied all the Ionic architecture used in the artistic buildings of the Colombian exposition. The adjectives which apply to all Greek temples are calm, chaste, self-contained, simple and severe. The art world is constantly returning to the Greeks for inspiration. Every little while there is a renaissance of old patterns, the reason being that they were carefully studied out. The frieze on the Erechtheum contains all that one needs to know about Greek art.

Proud of Parthenon

The Parthenon is the pride of the Greeks who have a saying that of all the places in the world the brightest atmosphere and clearest air are to be found in Greece; of all the places in Greece the brightest atmosphere and clearest air are to be found in Athens; of all the places in Athens the brightest atmosphere and clearest air are to be found on the Acropolis; and of all the places on the Acropolis the most brilliant atmosphere and the clearest air surround the Parthenon.

Views of the ruins of the Parthenon were then shown and an interesting talk on its architectural beauty. There are the three steps for good luck with the columns rising severely from them. The box like appearance which always accompanies American copies of Greek architecture was avoided by certain mathematical refinements. It is the boast of the Greeks that there is not a single straight line in the building and that it is built to catch the light.

Built in Curves

The long step across the front rises about four inches in a curve, the columns swell slightly and there is the same curving line in the architrave and the frieze. The curves, so cunningly introduced as not to be noticeable, denote elasticity and life. Everything living is built in curves and the Parthenon is the result of the unconscious wish of the architects to make the building elastic, beautiful to the eye and not stiff.

Relics of Art

Pictures of different decorations and statues were then shown. The ancient myths which the figures represented being given and adding greatly to the interest taken in the artistic beauty of the sculpture. The ancient Greeks knew how to put life, animation and feeling into the marble and the comparison of the different statues is intensely interesting.

BET ON OYSTER SUPPER

Crowd of Young People Interested in Outcome of Novel Contest.

Friendly rivalry between a number of young people who form one of the city's many little social circles, has led to the wager of an oyster supper which is to be paid the latter part of next week. The crowd decided some time ago to attend the A. O. U. W. masquerade next Tuesday evening and plans for costumes were begun. The hints dropped by some of the young people aroused the spirit of contest and finally sides were chosen by two of those most prominent in the crowd. Each side claims to be sure of earning some of the money offered by the A. O. U. W. as prizes and if either side fails to secure a prize, the losers must buy oysters for the crowd. If neither side takes a prize there will have to be two suppers but with sixteen young people determined on victory it would seem as though there must be at least one prize winning costume in the crowd.

PROPOSITIONS OF P. HOHENADEL CO.

MONROE IS OFFERED A $50,000 CANNING PLANT

PROMOTERS GIVEN RECEPTION

Want a Five-Acre Site, Sidetracks, and Contracts for Corn and Cucumber Acreage.

It is now up to Monroe to have a canning factory almost the size of the one in this city and operated by the same company. The promoters of the affair, P. Hohenadel, Jr.; P. A. Marsh, F. Belknap and J. L. Fisher were in Monroe yesterday and attended a citizens' meeting called for the purpose of listening to their proposition.

The promoters asked the citizens for five acres of land inside of the city limits adjacent to the railroads, where they can get shopping facilities. The citizens' committee have secured pledges for about 1,500 acres of sweet corn and about 500 acres of cucumbers and have practically agreed to furnish the site for the plant. Another meeting will be held in a few days and the matter definitely settled.

If the site is secured the company will erect the factory and have it in running order by the time the produce handled by them is ready for delivery.

The plan submitted by Mr. Hohenadel, to the people of Monroe, was that the company would erect a factory costing from $40,000 to $50,000 and make it a permanent concern, increasing the acreage as the business demands.

In order to make the factory a success from the start, it was necessary to have contracts for 1,500 acres of sweet corn and 500 acres of cucumbers. The factory would pay out about $150,000 each year to the farmers and in addition to that from 150 to 200 hands would be employed during the busy season. The people who work in their plants are boys, girls, men and women. A small portion of the help will have to be skilled labor and will be brought to Monroe from the other factories. The factory would handle about 450 car loads of freight each season and would require a side track from both rail roads to the doors of their plant. To carry out their plans they would want about five acres of land for a site in order to have room for their factory, immense pickle sheds, corn sheds, store houses, teams and side tracks. Their factories in other cities had been a success and in fact the demand for their goods was larger than the supply, this was the reason they were looking for another factory site.

Mr. Fisher told how canning factories helped the merchants and benefited the farmers. He had practical experience in the business and knew how it had helped the business men and farmers in other places. Mr. Marsh, who is largely interested in the pickle business in Chicago and gave the audience some figures on the growth of the business.

E. L. Jackson, industrial commissioner of the St. Paul road addressed the meeting, and told what the canning plants along the St. Paul road were now doing and how well the farmers were pleased with the results. The factory people will put a man in field in connection with the committee of citizens or farmers, to solicit the growth of the corn and pickles.

SMILES AT WIFE THEN SNOOTS HER

COUPLE HAD BEEN SEPARATED

Husband Pretends to Be Seeking a Reconciliation and Plants Three Bullets at the Mother, One Landing Near the Heart.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—While a mother's kiss was being pressed upon the cheek of the sleeping infant, whom she believed had at last won a recalcitrant husband back to the ties of home, the father stood in the shadows of a darkened room and fired three shots in the effort to end the life of the woman. Two of the bullets reached the mark and the police are now seeking the would-be murderer.

Sought His Wife.

John Hoffarth, a barber with a shop at Division and Wells street, is the man for whom the North Side authorities are searching. For a week he has been separated from his wife and baby daughter, the woman fearing that her life was in danger so long as she lived with him, according to the story she told the police. Mrs. Hoffarth has been living with a friend, Mrs. Haynes, at 537 Division street, and there her husband sought her out.

With a Demon's Smile.

Their last meetings had been stormy, with threats of violence from the man. But this time he appeared on the scene smiling and apparently seeking a reconciliation. His talk was all of the baby and the mother, pride showing in her face, told him how the little one had just learned to take its first steps. He asked to see his daughter, and Mrs. Hoffarth went to the crib where the infant was sleeping and stooped to lift her up. At the same time she imprinted a kiss upon the baby's cheek.

Bullet Near Heart.

Hoffarth, standing in a shaded corner of the room, fired. Three shots were directed at the woman, and one inflicted a dangerous wound in the left side below the heart. The second ball made a flesh wound in the hip and the third went wild.

Mrs. Haynes ran from an adjoining room and sought to prevent Hoffarth's escape, but he threw her to the floor and ran from the house. His wife was removed to the Passavant hospital.

RURAL ROUTES ARE HELP TO FARMERS

Statistics Show Forty Per Cent Increase in a Year, Due Largely to Daily Papers.

In a recent issue of the Daily Commonwealth of Fond du Lac a tabulated statement is given of the results of rural delivery in the past year. Some of the figures apply to Rock county. The results show the value which the farmers have set on the excellent service which is now being given them, and in view of the fact that the system is still in its infancy the popularity which it has won is the more eloquent testimony to its value.

According to the statistics given, the number of pieces of mail handled on the routes which branch out from this city has increased more than forty per cent. In the past year. The opportunities which the rural delivery gives the farmer to secure daily newspapers is one of the lines along which the greatest increase has been made, and greater increase is expected. Instead of only receiving their mail twice a week they can now get it every morning.

CURES CATARRH

"Hymel the Most Wonderful Cure for Catarrh Ever Discovered," Says Mayor Ward.

Do not try to cure catarrh by taking drugs into the stomach; it cannot be cured in that manner. The only way in which this too common disease can be cured is through a direct application that will kill the bacilli of catarrh and prevent their growth.

Hymel is the only known method of treatment that accomplishes this. It is the simplest, most pleasant, and the only absolute cure for catarrh that has ever been discovered.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials have been received from the most prominent men and women in the country who have been cured by this remarkable remedy. Ministers, bankers, lawyers, even eminent physicians have sent strong testimonials as to the remarkable powers of Hymel to cure catarrh.

Former Mayor Emory M. Ward of Trenton, N. J., writes: "You have my permission to say that I believe 'Hymel' to be one of the most wonderful cures for catarrh and throat trouble that has ever been discovered. In my case the effect has been marvellous. I enclose you money order for two outfits for friends of mine to whom I have recommended 'Hymel' and who I am anxious shall have the benefit of this remarkable panacea."

The complete Hymel outfit costs but $1.00, consisting of an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hymel to last over a month. This will effect a cure in ordinary cases, but for chronic and deep-seated cases of catarrh, longer use is necessary, and then extra bottles of Hymel, (a month's treatment) can be obtained for 50 cents. It is not alone the best (it might be called the only) method of curing catarrh, but it is also the most economical.

King's Pharmacy have so much confidence in the power of Hymel to cure catarrh, that they will for a limited time, sell this medicine under their personal guarantee to refund the money if the purchasers can say that it did not help them. King's Pharmacy.

The Year Just Closed WILL NEVER BE FORGOTTEN

By Those to Whom

Paine's Celery Compound

Gave New Life & Happiness

The year just closed has been a memorable one for Paine's Celery Compound. A multitude of men and women, weakened, nervous, rundown and suffering the pains and agonies of disease, have had their burdens removed and their feet firmly planted on the solid rock of health.

Stirring political events of the past year, the colossal efforts of trusts and monopolies, the recent miners' strike, and other notable events will be quite forgotten in a few weeks or months. Not so with the strength after weakness, the new life after years of suffering, the robust health after wasting disease, the permanent cure after the verdict of "incurable" pronounced by the physician. These glorious remembrances and blessings, and the happy assurance that Paine's Celery Compound "makes sick people well," will be indelibly graven on the mind as long as life lasts.

The victories of Paine's Celery Compound over disease in the past year are supported by thousands of testimonial letters from the best people of the land. Medical journals have noted the blessed work, and physicians have been compelled to endorse the life-saving virtues of earth's best medicine. It matters not, dear reader, how bad your case may be, give Paine's Celery Compound an honest trial, and you will surely share the blessings it has bestowed upon others.

The Bostonians

The Bostonians this season are stronger than ever. They easily lead all other comic opera organizations in the country. The great company that has recently presented "Robin Hood" and "Maud Marian" in New York with such signal success will appear in its entirety here. H. C. Barnabee, W. H. MacDonald, George B. Frothington and Josephine Bartlett continue in their original parts. Miss Grace Van Studdiford is the prima donna. The musical critics of the country say she is undoubtedly the finest soprano ever engaged by the Bostonians. Night after night at the Academy of Music, New York, the vast audience cheered her to the echo. Her work is equal to the finest of grand opera is the general verdict.

THE POWER OF LIQVOZONE

To Preserve Your Health and Cure Disease.

Facts and Proof—Not Talk and Promises.

LIQVOZONE IS NATURE'S CURE FOR MOST ILLS.

It contains an excess of Oxygen liquefied so it can be easily and cheaply used in the family. Applied externally, it heals. Used internally, it cures. Liquezone is not a medicine, it is not a drug. It is unlike any preparation ever sent into the world to bless and heal suffering mankind. Liquezone prolongs life, preserves health, prevents contagion. LIQVOZONE IS CONDENSED HEALTH.

NINE OUT OF EVERY TEN PEOPLE ARE SICK. If you are, this will help you. Their one thought, their main aim in life, their wish is—to be cured. The millionaire and the laborer are alike ravaged by disease, by the agony of pain. The rich man would give his millions, the poor man the greater part of his remaining days, to be able to secure a remedy to restore the rosy bloom of health and the elastic step of youth.

It is only a very short time since the science of disease has undergone a radical change. Lately the great scientists founded the theory and proved the fact that disease is caused by disease germs. To the astonishment of the medical world it was found that what killed one would kill all kinds of disease germs. To find a remedy to destroy these infectious germs, without injury to the human body, was the next step, when to their amazement and wonder it was found that the simplest product of Nature, which is man's greatest supporter, effectively killed his worst enemy—disease germs.

This wonderful product, called "LIQVOZONE," is now within your reach. It will cure you. If taken in time, it may save you.

How can it be proven that Liquezone is harmless, if so powerful to destroy these germs? Put a small piece of raw meat into diluted Liquezone and you will see that the meat will remain sweet and fresh, and will not decay or decompose. No remedy, or medicine, or drug, will stand this test. What is true of meat is true of your stomach, your blood, or your lungs. How can a medicine that will rot meat cure your body? Is it not absurd? As most diseases are caused by disease germs, a remedy which will destroy these without injury to the system must cure disease. This is what does. Let us tell you how it performs its wonder works. The words of the afflicted ones who are cured must convince you of the truth, and the value of this greatest of Nature's own remedy for disease. We say emphatically to you that LIQVOZONE cures CONSUMPTION. Read what Mr. Leonard says to you:

"I was sick and in the hospital with a violent cough which the doctors pronounced consumption. I sent for a bottle of Liquezone. I took it, with immediate results, the most beneficial being good rest and sleep at night, and a general all-round better feeling. I am taking it and shall continue to do so, as it seems impossible for me to be without it. It is so pleasant to take and has such instant action, with none of the after tastes that most medicines for lung troubles have."

"I consider it a blessing, and advise all people suffering from any breaking down to try it, and I am sure it will afford instant relief."

E. J. LEONARD, 615 W. Robinson St., Allegheny, Pa.

CLUB WOMEN TALK ABOUT CALIFORNIA

Glories of the Western State Formed
Topic for the Eastern Star
Study Class.

Members of the Eastern Star study class held a pleasant and profitable meeting at the home of Mrs. George Butts, 240 Milton avenue, Thursday afternoon. Twenty-four members were present and responded to roll call with current events. The subject for the afternoon's program was California and was especially interesting as ten members of the class have visited in that state.

Mrs. T. O. Howe spoke for Mrs. Harrington on the general subject, California, and Mrs. W. H. Merritt, on its flowers and fruits. Mrs. M. L. McNamara discussed its climate and scenery. Mrs. Martin its health resorts and Mrs. F. B. Strickler its educational institutions.

Considerable time was then spent pleasantly in listening to the personal experiences of those who had visited in California. Mrs. Butts was assisted in entertaining the class by Mrs. Mary Wood. The next meeting of the class will be held with Miss Fanny Rumlil, Thursday afternoon, January 22.
